

Subtitle For The Second Video

Savitri : “Assalamualaikum warahmatullahi wabarakatuh.

We are from Team J. In this video we want to display our member’s design.

But first, thank you for Lala dan Hary for coming in this meeting.

So tonight we want to present our design that have been made by Rahma dan Dewi.

And then Lala, Hary, and I will vote to get a better design.

So, first we invite Rahma to explain her design.”

Rahma : “I want to explain my design result.

On the first page in the original app, we were asked to pick a city first.

But, here, we will be asked to login.

Because it will be easier for user, and no need to login again in the middle of the uses.

After that, second page is a page to login to the registered account.

While, third page is a page to make a new account.

And for the home page, it directly display events that will be held soon.

It provides all the events from all the cities without having to select the city first.

On the next page, in the original app there are three search symbols.

But, here, I changed it, so now there is only one search symbol.

This will make it easy for the user.

And for the rest, there is no difference from the original application.

We display this, in order to know the flow until we get the ticket.

And that’s all from me. Next, Dewi will explain about her design.”

Dewi: “Good Night all.

I’m Dewi, and I want to explain the design that I have made.

Actually, my design is not too much different from Rahma’s design.

Overall, this design was created with red and blue color,

Because i want to keep the color consistency of the original application.
And then, on the login and the sign up page are same with Rahma's design.
For the event section, I choose scrolling mode instead of sliding.
And it also display the date directly.
The event also displayed based on categories, like "this weekend" or "upcoming events".
And for the search page only differentiated in symbol.
In this design, I also try to keep the consistency of the button color, it is red.
And for the rest, there is no the difference.
So, that's all from me."

Savitri : " So, after we look at both designs. now it's time for voting.
Maybe, we can start it from Lala.
Which one do you prefer?"

Lala: "Hello. My name's Putu Sanisa Pascaline from Team H.
We are doing the same assignment.
So we are all still learning together.
But, For me, between both I prefer Dewi's.
Because, it is user friendly. The design's look like it will give me convenience.
The design is good, and the color choice's right.
Overall it is easy to use, and the color is nice."

Savitri : "Thanks to lala for voting.
And then, we move to Hary.
Which one do you like the most?"

Hary: "Alright. My name's Hary from Team D.
From me, I prefer the design that made by Dewi.

Because, I agree with Lala that the design is user friendly.

And the color's more consistent.

It's good and we don't see so much color.

And for the other section, overall is nice.”

Savitri : “Thanks to Hary for the voting.

And then from me,

Honestly, it's hard for me to choose.

But, between both of the designs, I also prefer Dewi's design.

And I also agree with Lala dan Hary.

Three of us have chosen. and all of them choose the design made by Dewi.

So, we decide that Team J will use the design that made by Dewi.

Finally, we're done.

Once again, thanks to Lala and Hary.

That's all from our team. Wassalamualaikum”
